SMP Research:
Identifying Efficient and Effective Methods
to Target Medicare Beneficiaries at Risk for Fraud

Marissa Whitehouse

Administration for Community Living

Purpose

Contracted by ACL, RTI International conducted an environmental scan and interviews with subject matter experts (SMEs). The purpose of this study was to provide ACL with a better understanding of the most efficient and effective methods to reach the SMP program's target audience via outreach and media activities to prevent Medicare fraud.

Research Questions

1. Who is the target audience for SMPs (i.e., those most likely to be victims of Medicare fraud) and how does this compare with current beneficiaries being served?
2. What are the current SMP approaches for targeting Medicare beneficiaries at risk for fraud?
3. What data or information is available to help the SMP program and its federal partners target Medicare beneficiaries at risk for fraud?
4. What are the most effective methods to target those at risk?
5. What challenges exist in these current targeting methods employed?

Methods

1. An environmental scan that included reviews of:
 - a. A total of 204 literature resources
 - b. Existing SMP outreach materials
 - c. Select SIRS data reports
 - d. OIG SMP Reports
2. 15 Subject Matter Expert (SME) interviews
3. Thematic analyses

Preliminary Findings

#1. Who is the target audience for SMP outreach (i.e., those most likely to be victims of Medicare fraud) and how does this compare with current beneficiaries being served?

1. Factors impacting risk:
 - a. Demographic variables
 - b. Psychological vulnerabilities
 - c. Behavioral or situational variables
2. National-level resources are generally broadly focused. Targeted outreach activities are mainly being done at state and local levels.
3. Health care providers were also identified as being at risk for fraud

#2. What are the current SMP approaches for targeting Medicare beneficiaries at risk for fraud?

1. Current approach priorities:
 - a. Easily digestible and should continue to be so
 - b. Shift to digital methods of dissemination
 - c. Community gatekeepers

#3. What data or information is available to help the SMP program and its federal partners target Medicare beneficiaries at risk for fraud?

1. National data and information are available, but detailed data on specific populations may be lacking or access limited
2. Multiple approaches are used, but primarily through beneficiary-reported fraud
3. Collaboration is taking place at the national, state, and local levels

#4. What are the most effective methods to target those at risk?

1. A multipronged approach to outreach
2. Collaborating with gatekeepers
3. Leveraging current partnerships

#5. What challenges exist in these current targeting methods employed?

1. SMP targeted activity awareness
2. Beneficiary awareness
3. Cost

Recommendations in the works...

- Raise awareness of grantees' current activities
- Consider how ACL encourages funds to be spent
- Rethink what ACL requires re: sharing with peers
- Build upon relationships
- Focus on prevention
- Brainstorm opportunities to educate health care professionals

SHIP Branding

SHIP Branding: What we heard...

A new logo is fine, but what we really need is program recognition. Beneficiaries don't know SHIP; they say things like...

I go to the AAA for services.

I talk to Jane at my senior center.

I talk with a counselor at the hospital.

There's help understanding Medicare?

SHIP Media Campaign

- Today's the day - NEW national SHIP materials for beneficiary outreach!
- ACL worked with BETAH to develop materials to help increase program recognition by using a unified message nationally.
